LONG SHOTS PLENTIFUL.

The extremely bad condition the Harlem track is in at present deters owners of good horses from starting them and consequently the fields yesterday were about the poorest of the season, being made up of nothing but selling platers.

The best race of the day was the third, a five furlongs dash for all ages. Philo was made the choice by the talent, but the best he could do was to run second to Jack Demund. Duellist led by a big margin up to the final eighth and appeared to be the winner, but about here, Jack Demund, which had been badly outrun in the first half, moved up with a rush, passing into the lead about fifty yards out and winning easily by two lengths from Philo which beat Duellist the same distance for second place. Philo was taken wide when turning for home losing some ground but recovered quickly and finished strongly under a vigorous ride. Duellist faltered badly when the pinch came. Rag Tag appeared to have a chance after entering the last quarter but tired suddenly in the last sixteenth struggle. Herodiade, as usual, showed early speed. Montanic was beaten off all the way.

The day's first race, a dash of five furlongs for maiden two-year-olds, resulted in one of the biggest surprises of the year, Zepho against whose chances as good as 100 to 1 could be had, winning by a nose on the post from Rankin, which beat Egg Nog as a head for second place. Senor led by a big interval until in the last eighth, where he began to tire and the others closed up fast on him. Rankin appeared to be winning in the closing strides, but Donnelly brought up Zepho fast and just got him up in time. The latter was badly outrun to the head of the stretch and was taken wide, but under a vigorous ride in the last quarter closed up ground stoutly. Marco as usual showed early speed.

The one and three-eighths miles proved to be an easy thing for Alaska, which suffered Compass to run in the lead for seven furlongs and then went to the front at call, winning as his rider pleased by three lengths from Wing Dance, which beat Compass a half for second place. Wing Dance finished fast and wore down Compass in the last sixteenth struggle. Obstinate Simon was a keen contender for one and one-sixteenth miles, but retired rapidly when the pinch came.

The fourth race, a six furlongs dash for three-year-olds, proved to be a canter for Haydon, which took kindly to the going and simply spreadeagled his field. He won as his rider pleased by three lengths from Pirate's Queen, which beat Ida V. five for second place. Pirate's Queen showed improvement, standing a long stretch drive with great gameness. Ida V. ran a dull, listless race and has probably had too much of it of late. Pierce J. was a keen contender for four and one-half furlongs and then gave up the struggle. Ben Frost ran far below expectations in going to his liking and can do much better.

Merops took the fifth race, a dash of six furlongs for three-year-olds and upward, by three and one-half lengths from Gracious, which beat Goldaga the same distance for second place. Gracious led until well into the last quarter, where she tired when challenged by the winner. Goldaga made up some ground in the final quarter and outstayed Chanton in the closing strides for third place. Tom Wallace fell heavily in his warm-up and was excused from starting by the judge.

The last race of the day, a dash of one mile for three-year-olds and upward, went to King Barleycorn. He took the lead at the rise of the barrier and, showing much speed throughout, won easily by three lengths from Irving Mayor, which beat Charley Thompson eight for second place. Irving Mayor, off flatfooted, was badly outrun for the first half, but made up ground fast thereafter and finished strongly. Charley Thompson tired badly in the last eighth run. Dodie S. was well beaten when a furlong from home. Mary Moore was never a serious contender.

A crowd fully as large as that of the day before was present. The track at its best today will be deep and heavy.

TECUMSEH HANDICAP WEIGHTS.

The Tecumseh Handicap will be the main feature of the racing at Harlem tomorrow. It has a fine list of entries and Secretary Nathanson has made the following unexceptionable assignment of weights.

LOCAL TURF GOSSIP.

Tom Wallace, which was a carded starter in the fifth race, fell in his preliminary gallop and by permission of the judges was excused from starting and an interval of twenty minutes allowed.

Many horsemen have sent their horses to the Worth track and Secretary Nathanson and his assistants find it difficult to fill the races.

Judge John F. Morse, presiding judge at Washington Park and Worth, was an interested spectator at Harlem yesterday.

Steve L'Hommedieu and Billy Shannon drew in yesterday and will book at Harlem the remainder of the current meeting.

Secretary Howard, of the Washington Park Club, was a visitor at Harlem yesterday.

Herodiade and Montanic will in future be barred from starting at Harlem on account of their unruly actions at the post.

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

The well known colored trainer "Dow" Williams, who formerly handled the Santa Anita racing stable of "Lucky" Baldwin, was at Gravesend Tuesday. The former trainer of Los Angeles took that celebrated mare in a special car all the way from Santa Anita farm, in the San Gabriel Valley, Cal., to Philadelphia, where he left her at A. J. Cassett's Chesterbrook farm a few days ago.

The old mare stood the trip well, and Williams expects that her union with The Bard will produce a great performer. The purchase of the mare by Isaac Labold was made for a Mr. Shanley, of Philadelphia. The latter gentleman may shortly branch out in a racing stable.

When the Santa Anita stable was at the zenith of its success, "Dow" Williams led back many winners trained by him. Some of his amusing experiences with "Lucky" Baldwin throw Albert Cooper's in the shade and would make that worthy turn pale at their recital.—Morning Telegraph.

"Dick" Williams has left the employ of Barney Schreiber and has gone to his farm in Oklahoma.

Went to post at 2:15. At post 2 minutes. Start poor. Won driving; second the same. Dublin, from a flatfooted start, worked through next to the rail in the deep going and gradually wore The Musketeer down in the stretch and won going away. The latter, away running, made the most of his advantage and appeared a sure winner almost throughout, but tired right at the end. Rappenecker closed a big gap from a bad start and ran the best race of his career. Young Henry was prominent for the first half but tired badly in the stretch. Himself was always outrun.
Overweights—Rappenecker, 3 pounds.

Went to post at 2:45. At post 2 minutes. Start good. Won driving; second easily. Moor, under a skillful and vigorous ride, ran a game race and closed up very fast right at the end, after being apparently beaten on the turn. Marshal Neil ran a fine fast race, but tired under pressure at the end. Par Excellence was outrun early, but was going well at the end. Rocky was unable to sustain his usual early speed. The Black Scot, away badly, raced a fast middle half and tired afterward. The others were always outrun.

Winner—Ch. f, by Prince Royal—Sallie McAllester (trained by J. H. Carr).
Went to post at 3:15. At post 4 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second driving. Courtmaid beat the gate and made the most of the advantage, led throughout and was never seriously menaced. Durazzo away badly, was raced into several hopeless pockets and never had a chance until too late. With clear sailing, at the extreme outside, he closed very strongly in the last quarter, and was easily best. Ringdove ran throughout on his own courage, and can beat good ones over a longer distance of ground. Scoffer went remarkably well at the weights. Hackensack suddenly improved. Sheriff Bell started slowly but closed a big gap and can do much better. First Chip tired at the end. Tioga was away badly and worse ridden.
Scratched—35409 Examiner, 110; 35409 Witfull, 99; 35429 Right and True, 97.

Went to post at 3:40. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won easily; second driving. Hermis out-classed the field and is a sure enough crackerjack. He moved up like a flash on the stretch turn and came away impressively in the stretch. Huntressa ran a fast and game race and is in great form. Igniter finished very strongly and is a greatly improved horse. Andy Williams ran a bad race and was probably stale from recent excessive racing in heavy going.
Scratched—35190 Cunard, 116.

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

It is said that Mr. Williams made a lot of money in the time he was with Mr. Schreiber. He invested it in the Oklahoma farm.

Herman Brandt will train Mr. Schreiber's yearlings and take care of the lot at the farm, while George Covington will have charge of the Schreiber string in California. Mr. Schreiber has already sent his yearlings west. Otis, Picquart, Father Wentker and most of the four-year-olds will winter at Woodlands.

Samuel S. Howland, who acted as the Jockey Club's representative at the race meeting at the Kenilworth track at Buffalo, is very much pleased with the prospects there.

"The racing was clean and good," said Mr. Howland at Gravesend Tuesday afternoon, "and although the people were a bit slow to patronize the sport, the attendance picked up materially as the meeting advanced. It will surely be a great racing center in the course of time."

The Hon. William Howard McCorkle, who raced a stable at the meeting, has also returned to the metropolis and speaks highly of the treatment he received there. The association has not settled all of the purses, yet, said Mr. McCorkle, but the money is absolutely safe and no one need have any fear on that score.—Daily America.

MORE DISTANCE RACES.

It is extremely gratifying to find that the Coney Island Jockey Club, with its usual promptitude and astuteness, has taken up again the agitation for more long distance racing. This prominent club started the movement which resulted in the institution of the Annual Champion, Century, Advance and Standard Stakes and the Jockey Club and Morris Park weight-for-age races. The failure of big long-distance races to attract first-class fields is mainly because they are too few in numbers for owners of first-class horses to train for them exclusively. To train for gallops of more than one-mile and a quarter takes speed away from a horse in mile, mile and a furlong and mile and a quarter races. It was suggested last July by The Spirit during the Brighton Beach meeting when the Brighton Cup, two miles and a quarter attracted only two starters, that the metropolitan associations might secure bigger and better fields for such races by offering two or three overnight races, worth from $1,000 to $1,500 in added money, at distances ranging from one mile and a half to two miles and a quarter, and making it worth while for owners to run in them, and thus keep in condition the horses for the more important long distance races.

The officers of the Coney Island Jockey Club are making arrangements to offer at the spring and fall meetings of next year three or four mile and a half and mile and three-quarter overnight events. At least $1,200 will be added in each event, and one or two may have a value of $2,000. Realizing that it will be impossible for the Coney Island Club, unaided, to accomplish much, the officers, of the other metropolitan associations will probably be invited to a conference on the matter, and all will probably be arranged satisfactorily.

If the plan is carried through, a horse which can cover a distance of ground will in a few years be ranked more valuable than a sprinter and long distance horses will be plentiful as blackberries. The popularity of long distance racing is attested when the Brighton Cup or the Annual Champion Race is run from start to finish, amid riotous applause. No races without glamour of tradition such as invests the Brooklyn and Suburban Handicaps and the Futurity draw so well as races like the Brighton Cup, the Century and the Annual Champion.

The enterprise of the officers of the Coney Island Jockey Club will, therefore, be followed with keen interest, and every one hopes for the success of the movement. This is practically assured, if only from the standpoint of the "gate." People will flock to see long distance racing and steeplechasing, and if there is more of it, with good cattle engaged, there is little doubt that the receipts will soon tell the story.

Second to this, said to say in this prosaic age, comes the self evident improvement to the American thoroughbred horse. Instead of only developing sprinters, and trying to do nothing else, we shall have an incentive to develop stamina and distance qualities, and that is what is most wanted.—Spirit of The Times.

LIKES WESTERN METHODS.

Not long ago the Hawthorne stewards found occasion to rule off the course the horse, Joe Frey, simply because the animal had run three races of an in and out character. The Chicago stewards were applauded, and justly so. Now comes another instance of the strong practical administration of another set of Western stewards. At Delmar Monday R. G. Bolich, his jockey Eddie Mathews, and his horse, If You Dare, were expelled from the turf. And why? If You Dare had been beaten by the field he met Monday in three previous races. If You Dare's price receded from 8 to 1 to 10 to 1 in his last two races. The horse was beaten off. Monday If You Dare's price advanced from 12 to 1 to 6 to 1 at post call. If You Dare won in a canter. In two minutes afterward the Bolich clique were outcasts from the world of respectable racing. All St. Louis applauded the action, and public confidence in the Delmar stewards' acumen and practical sense of racing affairs has been greatly strengthened. One admirable feature about the racing under the Western Jockey Club jurisdiction is that the men in the several stewards' stands are just as smart as the scheming horsemen themselves. President Lawrence Young of the Western Jockey Club once said that the majority of stewards in the West had at some time or another owned and actually trained horses. At Churchill Downs last spring President W. F. Schulte, when asked if he were not fearful of certain horsemen putting up a "job" on the stewards, said: "Why every one of those men up there in that stand can shoe a horse." A practical knowledge of the occupation or the line of business one enters upon is essential to success. The western administrators of turf government apparently possess this requisite in an all sufficient degree, for rarely does a "job" escape them. They possess as much horse sense as the experts in the paddock. When a horse is being run for a purpose they find it out and act decisively.—The Evening Sun.

PRICE IN CONTROL.

The controlling majority of the stock of the New Louisville Jockey Club has passed into new and progressive hands. Particulars of the new deal are thus given in a dispatch from Louisville to the Enquirer of yesterday.

"The new Louisville Jockey Club was today reorganized, and the glories of Churchill Downs are to be revived on a scale more elaborate than ever. Eighty-three per cent of the stock in the club has passed from W. E. Applegate, H. C. Applegate and Charles Bollinger to Charles F. Price, M. J. Winn and J. C. Boardman, trustees. It has been currently reported that Louis Bell, of New York, is the power behind the throne, but Mr. Price, who really engineered the deal, declines to commit himself in any way.

"Mayor Charles F. Grainger was elected president, with a salary of $5,000 a year; M. J. Winn, vice-president; Charles F. Price, secretary and manager, with exclusive control of the racing department, at a salary of $5,000 a year; J. C. Boardman, treasurer. Mr. Boardman and Louis Seelbach, owner of Seelbach's Hotel, are to have the refreshment and restaurant privileges. The directors are composed as follows: Saunders P. Jones, who is one of the largest stockholders; Charles F. Price, Walter E. Glover, Charles F. Grainger, Louis Seelbach, M. J. Winn and J. C. Boardman.

"Messrs. Applegate and Bollinger still continue as minority stockholders in the club, but will have no voice whatever in the management. They are said to have been paid a good price for the release of a majority of their holdings.

"The most gratifying feature about the change of control is the fact that Charles Price is to have complete charge of the racing department. No one in Kentucky stands for better and purer sport than does Judge Price and his retirement just on the eve of what was looked upon as the greatest meeting in the history of Churchill Downs was a great disappointment to Kentuckians. But time has won. Mr. Price will again be presiding judge, and, more than that, he will have all to say of the racing at Churchill Downs.

"The new management contemplates radical improvements, both in the racing game and in the general attractiveness of Churchill Downs. Thousands of dollars are to be expended between now and next Derby Day in improvements of a substantial nature. A new clubhouse is to be erected, larger and better purses are to be hung up, new stakes are to be created and every effort will be made to keep in the west the many crack horses which train on this track and then go directly to the east. If these horses can be kept in Louisville by good inducements then they can also be induced to race at Latonia and at the Chicago tracks, thus greatly improving racing in the west. This is the idea of Mr. Price, and those who know him are confident that he will succeed in carrying it out.

"The other improvements to be made at Churchill Downs include a new paddock and a reconstructed betting shed. The present paddock beneath the grandstand will be removed and this space devoted to a public cafe, which will probably be conducted by Louis Seelbach. The new paddock will be erected beyond the betting shed. All the old stables which line the historic course are to give way to new ones. Every building is to be of a substantial character.

"Another important feature will be the transformation of Churchill Downs into a great amusement resort. During the summer the infield will be made a vast garden, not unlike those of the Crystal Palace in London, with myriads of flowers by day and colored fountains and lamps by night. Band concerts by Sousa, Weber, Creators, etc., will be given, and spectacles on the order of Pain's fireworks are to be a feature. The cafe will have a celebrated chef in charge, and a table d'hôte dinner will be one of the regular evening features.

"The regular meeting of the stockholders of the Louisville Jockey Club will be held two months hence, when the new officers will be installed. Today, however, at a meeting held at noon in the office of the club in the Courier-Journal building, Messrs. Applegate and Bollinger transferred control to Messrs. Price, Winn and Boardman, as trustees."

A YOUTHFUL TURFMAN.

"Preston Burch, Jr., son of W. P. Burch, the well known trainer, made a successful debut as an owner at Gravesend yesterday, when Stuyve won a purse for him," says Morning Telegraph of Wednesday.

"In connection with his advent on the turf, there is a story of good luck in picking the winners. The young man, who will shortly be 18 years of age, has taken an interest in racing for some time, and at the opening of the present season his father gave him a $20 bill with which to commence operations.

"He was successful from the start, and had the pleasure of betting on many winners. His bankroll grew rapidly as the season progressed and then he became ambitious to branch out as an owner.

"He mentioned the matter to his father, and he consented to allow him to start in the business. His uncle, Green B. Morris, was consulted, and dur-the Buffalo meeting the young man bought the colt June Collins.

"This youngster, which was bred at Rancho del Paso, was presented by J. B. Haggin to June Collins, foreman for Mr. Morris. The son of Darebin showed considerable improvement at Buffalo, and was in the money on several occasions.

"The next purchase was Stuyve, formerly owned by Captain Brown and claimed by P. J. Gorman, who brought him east. He was claimed by W. T. McGrath and his good races attracted the attention of Mr. Morris and young Burch.

"The gelding was bought a few days ago and is trained by Mr. Morris, whose colors he carried in the race. The young owner was not on hand to see Stuyve win, but his relatives displayed much enthusiasm. Stuyve was heavily played, and his victory was very pleasing to Mr. Burch and Mr. Morris.

"Young Burch plans to leave for California next week with Mr. Morris. He will take Stuyve and June Collins with him, and may secure other horses before his departure.

"His many friends will be glad to see him continue meeting with success in his turf venture. Should his colors be carried to victory frequently he will have cause to remember with pleasure the $20 note presented to him by his father. The young man may yet rank among the leading owners from a moderate start."
